

Oct 9 – 15th, 2011

Celebrating National Veterinary Technician Week

Registered Veterinary Technologists, or RVT's, as they are known in Saskatchewan, have graduated with a 2 year diploma from a Canadian Veterinary Medical Association approved post-secondary institution. New graduates are required to pass a credentialing exam in order to become registered and work as Veterinary Technologists in Saskatchewan.

Just a FEW tasks RVT's in Veterinary Practice perform every day:

- Clinical Pathology
- Lab Skills
- Nursing
- Anesthesia
- Hospital Management
- Client Relations
- Pharmacology
- Radiology
- Patient Care
- Surgical Assistant
- Client Education

RVTs are eligible to work in a variety of settings including veterinary clinics, research settings, intensive livestock operations, feedlots, zoos and much more!

For more information regarding Veterinary Technologists in Saskatchewan please visit the Saskatchewan Association of Veterinary Technologists website at www.savt.ca

Please take a moment and thank these hard working individuals who make caring for your animals their profession!